PRESS RELEASE

Removal of Cables from Old Street Poles and Electric Posts at Willingdon Island

W/Island: The Cochin Port Authority (CoPA) has decided to replace the old street poles and electric posts that are in a damaged or dilapidated condition along the LT/HT overhead lines at Willingdon Island, as part of its infrastructure upgrade.

Many of these poles have cables from various external service providers such as telephone, TV, internet, broadband, and other communication services. To carry out the work smoothly, all cables attached to the old poles must be removed.

CoPA requests all service providers to remove their cables from these poles by October 10, 2025. This includes cables installed with or without prior permission from CoPA.

After this date, CoPA will not be responsible for any damage or service problems caused by cables left on the old poles.

We request all concerned service providers to act quickly and cooperate to ensure a smooth and safe pole replacement process.
